

The Viglen Learning Platform

IT's about intuitive learning at your fingertips

Our experience in the education market, combined with the Viglen Learning Platform from it's learning, offers schools a wholly integrated learning solution.

The Viglen Learning Platform (VLP) from it's learning is an intuitive interface that allows pupils and teachers to focus on learning activities rather than mastering another new technology. With a comprehensive collection of content creation tools, teachers can generate courses and content quickly and easily, even incorporating elements from previously produced material.

Commercially available content can also be supplemented through additional material generated by teachers, enabling customisation and the personal approach of teachers to shine through.

The targeting of content resources and collaborating on projects is made easy and can range from individuals to groups to the whole population of the institution. These resources can be scheduled for maximum efficiency. Implementation of the VLP is achieved through careful planning and consultation between stakeholders and Viglen consultants. Administrators and Super Users are trained in-depth before their own learning platform is activated. These special users can then, in turn, become mentors for the rest of the school's population and are able to steer the development of the learning platform structure so that it can best deliver their key objectives.

it's learning has more than half a million active users in six European countries. These users have fashioned the development of the product for a number of years.

The active user rate is very high (typically 80% to 95% in the first year, compared with 20% to 30% for many other VLPs). Accessible anytime, from anywhere; all users need is internet access.

The hosted solution means you don't need to invest in additional hardware, software or infrastructure maintenance.
