Environment Week

Pupils at Gunnersbury were welcomed back from half term with a visit from Sky News weather presenter Lucy Verasamy

The presenter cycled the short distance from the BSkyB headquarters in Isleworth to our school where she talked about the effects of climate change on the weather.

Her visit marked the launch of the school's environment week, where pupils took part in activities and lessons designed to teach them about being eco-conscious.

The visit was part of Project Green Sky, an initiative led by the Sky Broadcast Operation Team, which aims to take the message of sustainability to schools in Hounslow.
